

NEW TEACHING ROOMS & LECTURE THEATRE SPARSHOLT COLLEGE

The College wished to replace all their temporary teaching accommodation with a single Teaching Block of 1800sq.m, including Laboratory and Lecture Theatre facilities.

Studio Four won the Commission to design the building up to Planning stage and were subsequently novated to work with the Contractor, Leonard Field Group, to complete the Working Drawing package.

The building includes 16 Classrooms, three Laboratories and a Lecture Theatre, arranged along a central corridor which follows the contours of this sloping site. The curved west elevation, overlooks the college pond, incorporates solar shading to limit classroom heat gain in the summer. The orientation of the building allows maximum flexibility for future expansion and internally moveable partitions allow Classrooms and Laboratories to be opened up for larger groups.
